

13th IET Colloquium and Call for Abstracts on Antennas, Wireless and Electromagnetics (CAWE)

Invited Speakers:

Professor Yi Huang, University of Liverpool
Professor Christos Masouros, University College London
Dr Anil Shukula, Senior Fellow, QinetiQ

This year's colloquium is kindly hosted by the Department of Electrical Engineering & Electronics, University of Liverpool.

This colloquium provides an opportunity for early stage researchers (such as final year apprentices, MSc and PhD students, research assistants), as well as experienced researchers and researchers about to start a new project, to gain presentation experience and inform the wider community of their work. The event will also provide an opportunity for young and experienced researchers to network with the antennas and propagation community.

See overleaf for important information on how to submit an abstract.
